

With the increase in film and television production that Wales has seen in recent years, South Wales has become the main focus especially around Cardiff.

Wolf Studios Wales (below) is the latest state of the art facility available in Cardiff alongside Great Point—Seren Studios.

Further west along the M4, Dragon Studios near Bridgend has also been used for a number of high profile US productions, including NBCUniversal's Brave New World and TNT's Will.

There are also numerous large, disused industrial sites throughout Wales that can be adapted for use as studio space.
